Dear Mr. Rose:

I know you will be happy when we get the pants order straightened out. Now I had a ballplayer come over and try on a pair of the pants. He was a good sized man, as large as any of the men except Mackey. I decided after this test that the 44 size is really too big, even after we would allow for shrinking. In fact the size 40 is about as large a pants as we will need. I realize they will shrink, but I cannot imagine them drawing up enough to make the 44's ever look a bit neat. After going over the whole story, I have decided to take the five largest pairs and have them cut to fit the small men; this will leave the others the correct size for the large men. I will take care of having the names changed in them.

Then too we are going to have several small men this year. The five pairs I am sending you back under separate cover today. Please have two pairs made size 38 and the other three size 40. I believe I am going to have them all tinted a little so they will match the shirts.

Thank you for taking care of this for me. I also want to ask you to have this bill dated for payment in May.

Very Truly Yours
